

In Giving

"Our Clubs" a short rest in the way of "ads," we wish to assure you that they are very much alive just the same: To have three full clubs running after our enormous success of a few years ago, is more than we expected. One would have been all we could have expected.

Today

We want to call your attention to a new lot of inlaid forks and spoons, which are just a shade better and a great many shades cheaper than any we have ever had. We generally surprise people when we tell them our prices on goods, for in spite of great protestations from others that their prices are so much less, our prices are always lower. Silver plated ware, reinforced with a piece of solid silver, where they are subject to greatest wear, will last a lifetime; and that's the kind we are talking about. Tea spoons are only a dozen, and other pieces in proportion. Cheap enough for any one.

Against Japanese

Merchants the Anglo-Saxon dealers in Honolulu have had to compete in the sale of fine china and lacquer ware; until now we could not compare with them in the purchase of these lines, consequently the trade has been exclusively handled by Japanese merchants.

Some time ago we saw an opportunity to procure these goods at low prices and in exclusive designs, decorated especially for us, and we are enabled today to offer the finest grades of Japanese porcelain, tea, breakfast and after-dinner coffee cups in strictly European patterns. The price ranges from a quarter to a half what French ware is sold for.

Lacquered trays sell from 25 cents to 50 cents. Beautiful paper napkins 20 cents a hundred; never have been sold for less than double in any Japanese store. The finest made are sold by us at 35 cents a hundred. Assortment of stock in this invoice comprises after dinner cups and saucers, moustache cups, tete tete-sets, chocolate cups, breakfast coffee cups and saucers, tea cups and saucers, bon bon sets, individual sugar and creamers, mush sets, cracker jars, rose jars, chocolate pots, tea caddies, bread and milk sets, odd plates, vases, tea pots, bread and butter plates, jugs of all sizes.

HAMMOND-LYMAN

Wedding Ceremony at Kamehameha School.

Wedding Bells and Flowers for Two Teachers—Pleasant Occasion.

The closing chapter of Kamehameha festivities found its "finis" in the good conventional manner of the story-books—"then they were married." Most of the girls at the school had left for their homes, and just sufficient of them remained to assist in the tasteful decorations, to serve in the dainty wedding breakfast and to show their affectionate interest in the wedding of Miss Nettie E. Hammond to Mr. Levi C. Lyman.

Promptly at noon the guests in the parlors, warmed by the opening chords of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," parted to make way for the bridal couple. The Rev. D. P. Birnie, stationed in an archway between the two rooms, draped by a graceful portiere of vines, was to be assisted in the conduct of the ceremony by Dr. C. M. Hyde. The simplicity and dignity of the service seemed to render unusually impressive the responsibilities—nay, the beauty of divinely ordained wedlock.

And what of the bride's costume? It was the dress of a graceful and gracious bride. From a man's standpoint, it was pleasing, harmonious and sensible; from a woman's and connoisseurs, it was that and more—a product of white chiffon over white silk—to which description should be added some mechanical details by a writer better qualified by sex, while the casually observant could not have failed in appreciation of the sweet bouquet of stephanotis and maiden-hair.

The congratulations that followed were the warmer for their informality, and were none the less sincere and cheerful, though this marriage means a decided loss to teachers of the Manual and Girls' School, who comprised the major part of those present.

Each appreciative guest found a plate laid in the dining room and successive courses of the wedding breakfast had added charm lent them by the well-drilled and becomingly-dressed girl waiters. The party was a cheery one, without the haste and confusion so frequently the result of a departing bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman left by the Claudine, and found a host of friends on the dock to wish them "God-speed" and cover them with leis. They plan a few days' trip to Makawao, thence to Hilo by the Kinau.

Miss Hammond has no relations in the Islands, though she expected until recently that her cousin, Lieutenant Commander Ingersoll, of the Philadelphia, would act in an important capacity at the wedding. She came to this country in 1889, and has hosts of friends in Makawao, where she taught for five years in the Maunaloa Seminary. Her year and a half at the Girls' School has equally endeared her to all her associates and pupils.

Mr. Levi C. Lyman needs no other eulogium than that he is a Lyman after the approved type of Hilo Lyman. As such, he has been sought as a successor to his grandfather, the founder of the Hilo Boarding School. He has had long and honorable connection with Kamehameha Manual, and carries with him the respect, regard and sincere well-wishes of the school.

Only the intimate friends of the bride and groom were present. Among them were: Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Lyman, Jr., Mrs. M. J. Forbes, Miss Annie Forbes, Mr. W. J. Forbes, Miss Warren Chamberlain, Miss Chamberlain, Rev. D. P. Birnie, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Dodge, Mrs. J. O. Carter, Mrs. S. M. Damon, Dr. and Mrs. Derby, Mr. and Mrs. T. Richards, Mrs. U. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Penfield, Mrs. Sturgeon, Misses Newcomb, Albright, Deuser, Clymer, Patch, Lisle, Krusen, Gearhardt, Bicknell, Mudge and Nape; Messrs. Rugg and King and a few others.

The present, which were numerous and beautiful, included a silver coffee set, silver table, desert, tea, coffee, orange and berry spoons, forks, pie knife, butter knife and soup ladle, several choice pieces of cut-glass and fine china, three pictures, two wicker chairs and many other gifts, both useful and ornamental.

Nearly a Stampede.

What might have resulted in a serious accident, occurred near Brewer's wharf between 8 and 9 o'clock Saturday night, during the progress of the fireworks. A large number of carriages containing passengers, and a greater number of people, were standing about. Suddenly somebody dropped a lighted bunch of firecrackers directly in front of a horse, attached to one of the hacks of 290 stand. The animal was so surprised by the discharge of the firecrackers that, for a moment, it stood still. Another carriage was backed into the horse, and then began some pretty lively jumping. Carriages on all sides began to move, and there was, for a time, promise of a stampede. As it was, a private carriage, quite far back toward Queen street, was smashed by being overturned.

The drivers of the various hacks and private carriages were so much occupied with taking care of their horses that the person who dropped the firecrackers was lost of. People who were standing in the immediate vicinity say that the man was a sailor from one of the merchant vessels.

Sailors Banqueted.

The ship's company of the U. S. S. Philadelphia had a banquet aboard ship on Monday. There was an abundance of good things to eat, and from 12 to 3 the boys and their friends held sway at tables set on either side of the deck. George Cavanaugh, of the Occidental, was caterer on this occasion.

Pure, Rich Blood

is the soil in which roots life, health, strength, happiness. The soil of the blood can be drained or impoverished like any other soil, and can be fertilized and nourished in a similar way. You can get back the old spring and snap. You can enjoy labor by day and sleep by night. You can eat your food with the of health, if you only supply the blood with its lacking nutriment; vitalize it, or if you like, fertilize it. A large number of so called tonic remedies are disguised stimulants. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a stimulant but a nourishment. It feeds the blood and so enriches it, as well as purifies it. That is why physicians recommend

Which Side Is He On?

Every maker and seller of clothes acquires a good deal of knowledge of cloth and make and cut and fit, all of which are important in judging clothes. But which side is he on? Does he use his knowledge and skill for the store or for you? Who pays him? Where does he get his money?

Buy your clothes where employer and seller are on your side.

Your money back if you want it makes us your slave. You command; we obey. You hire and discharge us; you hire and discharge our help. You smile; we are glad. You frown; we quake.
